

SOLIDARITÉ SIDA

2022 INTERNATIONAL CALL FOR PROPOSALS

PREAMBLE

Solidarité Sida, not-for-profit organization created in 1992 under the french act of 1901, pursues 4 main goals:

- Help: From Paris to Niamey via Tangier, Delhi or Cayenne, Solidarité Sida acts on all fronts to facilitate access to prevention, screening and care services for the most vulnerable populations.
- Warn: Solidarité Sida has chosen to develop a playful and original approach to arouse the curiosity of young people. Its challenge: submitting prevention as an event, offering free spaces of speech about sexuality and also turning young people into actors of their own health.
- Raise awareness: Through its awareness and fundraising events, the organization participates in civic education and mobilization of young people who are in search of meaning.
- Mobilize: Facing the current challenges of the fight against HIV/AIDS, field actions are no longer sufficient. Solidarité Sida and its nonprofit partners are investing themselves in a mobilization task targeting the general public, media and government: this is a way to highlight several great causes like international solidarity or access to treatments for all.

Solidarité Sida's call for proposals aims to support programs dedicated to people infected or vulnerable to HIV and hepatitis. These projects' goal is to increase access to prevention, screening, care, treatment and rights.

In line with international commitments, funded programs must contribute to the 3 x 90 goals at a local level and contribute to the sustainable development goals - especially Goal No. 3 "Good health and well-being" and No. 5 "Gender equality" - seeking the vision of a humanist, feminist and inclusive global sexual health. Solidarité Sida accords particular importance to awareness raising and mobilization of young people in the funded projects for Sexual and Reproductive Health of Adolescents and Young People (SSRAJ). The organization also prioritizes actions carried out by structures that defend and apply a community approach (both in terms of governance and organization of activities) and take part in a multi-actor health system.

Finally, Solidarité Sida, as a close partner, wishes to remain a trusted and helpful contact during the whole process: the application phase, the implementation period and the reporting of the project.

NOTE: The amount of Solidarité Sida's International Call For Project funding envelope depends on its annual financial results - mainly provided by the fundraising events (Solidays Festival, Red Ribbons actions, Gala for Solidarité Sida African Fund) carried out by the organization.

In order to remain truthful to the evolving context and thanks to regular reports from our association partners, some adjustments have been made to the International Call For Proposals' framework and forms. The goal of these documents is to clarify and have a good vision of the supported projects' intervention logic. That is why it is essential to read it in its entirety.

2022 INTERNATIONAL CALL FOR PROPOSALS FUNDING AXES

The 2022 International Call For Project is divided into two main funding axes: 1. Prevention and screening and 2. Care. Your funding request can be oriented towards either one or both of these axes. Please fill in the form according to the corresponding axe(s).

A section will be dedicated to information common to both areas, allowing you to specify if some beneficiaries are concerned by both axes. It also gives you the opportunity to specify the articulation and complementarity sought between the two components Prevention/screening and Care).

PREVENTION AND SCREENING

Funded projects for local prevention and / or access to HIV and STI testing must target small, clearly identified population groups, include pre and post test counseling and a regular follow up of actions provided by the association or a referral towards caregiving facilities, especially for HIV positive tested persons.

Details to be provided as appropriate:

- If the care is carried out within the same structure and included in the projects proposal to Solidarité Sida, the follow-up actions must be detailed in the "Care" section.
- If the care is carried out within the same structure but is not funded by Solidarité Sida, the follow-up actions must be detailed in the "Prevention and screening" section.
- If the care is not carried out within the same structure, the referral structure(s) must be named, and the follow-up actions must be detailed in the "Prevention and screening" section.

Prevention activities must present a comprehensive approach to sexual and reproductive health, including aspects of affective life, consent, and fight against discrimination towards gender minorities.

In the project's description, you must highlight how the implementation of the actions answers to an intervention logic that was defined upstream, according to the identified needs in prevention, screening (including follow up actions and/ or accompaniment) and support to the peer educators along their path (recruitment, training, missions, educational approaches, messages, follow-up...).

CARE

Care, prevention and screening excluded (Axe 1. Prevention / Screening)

HIV and STI care projects concern the post-testing accompaniment of patients for one or more of the following components:

- Medical component: consultations, dispensing of treatments, providing examinations and check-ups;
- Psychosocial component: psychological support, social support, improvement of patient's well-being, mediation, help with compliance and search for patients lost to follow-up;
- Legal component: support for access to rights, fight against discriminations, including serophobia and gender-based violence.

Solidarité Sida is aware of the difficulties that the supported associations staff have to deal with in constraining and sometimes hostile contexts. That's why Solidarité Sida provides for the possibility of financing psychosocial and/or legal support for the teams concerned. To do so, the support activities must be clearly presented and the related expenses sufficiently detailed.

CALL FOR PROJECTS' PROCESS

For new projects proposals, the applications received are submitted to a first reading on the basis of the project summary. If the project is pre-selected on this basis, it is then subject to an eligibility study. If this is conclusive, the project will be examined by Solidarité Sida Programs Team and International Funds Allocation Committee during the second half of 2022.

For projects already funded by Solidarité Sida, the application will be examined directly by the Programs Team and International Funds Allocation Committee during the second half of 2022, without a pre-selection phase. However, each and every application document must be completed according to the instructions given in the said documents, including the project summary.

It is very important to prepare the funding request making sure to include all the information necessary for a clear understanding of the project, even if it has already been funded for several years.

The Committee's funding proposals are submitted to the Board of Directors for approval and then notified to the partners before the end of 2022. They are sometimes accompanied by recommendations for the good implementation of the project or its development.

The selected projects are the subject of an agreement specifying the means of payment of the subvention as well as the obligations of the associations, in particular in terms of technical and financial monitoring. In this framework, the associations undertake to use the tools provided by Solidarité Sida and to respect the reports deadlines.
